Processing Information

Collections are processed to a variety of levels, depending on the work necessary to make them usable, their perceived research value, the availability of staff, competing priorities, and whether or not further accruals are expected. The library attempts to provide a basic level of preservation and access for all collections, and does more extensive processing of higher priority collections as time and resources permit.

The Frederick W. Hilles Manuscript Collection and Papers was comprehensively reprocessed in 2016 to encompass the manuscript collection and personal papers of Frederick W. Hilles. The manuscript collection retained its previously existing description and arrangement, and the papers received folder level description and arrangement.

This finding aid may be updated periodically to account for new acquisitions to the collection and/or revisions in arrangement and description.

These materials have been arranged and described according to national and local standards. For more information, please refer to the Beinecke Manuscript Unit Processing Manual.
