MSS 52, The Frederick and Rose Plaut Papers in the Irving S. Gilmore Music Library of Yale University.

Biographical / Historical

Frederick ("Fred") Plaut was born in Munich, Germany, on May 12, 1907. He graduated from the Technische Hochschule of the University of Munich with a degree in electrical engineering. From 1933 to 1940 Plaut lived in Paris, where he founded and operated his own recording studio. At the same time he worked as a consulting engineer for Polydor Records, where he designed and built a complete recording installation.

In Paris, Fred Plaut met his future wife, Rose Kanter, a Polish-American soprano pursuing vocal studies in France. They were married on September 24, 1938. She performed in France, England, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Italy, returning to the United States in June 1940, just as Paris was falling into Nazi hands. She continued her singing career in the United States under the name Rose Dercourt, making her American debut at Town Hall in April 1944. She was a close friend of Francis Poulenc, who dedicated some of his songs to her and maintained a steady correspondence with her until his death in 1963.

Fred Plaut came to the United States in January 1940 and in April of that same year began his career as a recording engineer with Columbia Records. He recorded the majority of the Columbia Masterworks series and many sessions of the Philadelphia, Cleveland, Chicago, Minneapolis, Louisville, and New York orchestras. He recorded almost all of the cast albums of Broadway shows, operas, and dramatic plays for Columbia and other labels. Plaut also recorded many chamber music and solo performances, as well as popular and jazz sessions. His work took place in the Columbia recording studios and on location at such events as the Newport Jazz and Marlboro Festivals. He received five Grammy Awards and six nominations for engineering.

While still with Columbia Records, Plaut gave several extension courses in The Art of Recording for the Manhattan School of Music. After his retirement from Columbia in 1972, Plaut joined the staff of the Yale School of Music as consultant and Senior Recording Engineer and in 1977 began teaching classes in The Art of Recording. In 1975 Plaut taught Music in Modern Media at Columbia University.

Plaut's second career was as a photographer. His work as a recording engineer for Columbia Records allowed him many opportunities to photograph recording artists in the studios and on location while they were relaxing, performing, or listening to playback of recording sessions. The result is thousands of candid portraits of the great conductors, orchestras, soloists, chamber players, popular and jazz musicians, actors, and writers. Some of these artists include Samuel Barber, Leonard Bernstein, the Budapest String Quartet, Pablo Casals, Aaron Copland, Zino Francescatti, Glenn Gould, Mieczyslaw Horszowski, the Juilliard String Quartet, Dimitri Mitropoulos, Eugene Ormandy, Richard Rodgers, Alexander Schneider, Rudolf Serkin, Isaac Stern, Igor Stravinsky, George Szell, Joseph Szigeti, Edgard Varèse, and Bruno Walter.

Fred and Rose Plaut were in the mainstream of New York City's musical life. They frequently attended or hosted dinner parties. The Plaut penthouse received such guests as Ned Rorem, Virgil Thomson, Henri Sauguet, Carlos Surinach, Igor Stravinsky, George Balanchine, Edgard Varèse, and Vittorio Rieti. These social occasions also allowed Plaut to take many candid photographs.

Fred Plaut also took many candid photographs on his frequent vacations with Rose to such countries as France, Italy, Spain, India, Mexico, and Israel. These photos included not only typical tourist's pictures, but also the famous personalities they encountered. The travel photos include candid portraits of Francis Poulenc, Pierre Bernac, Alberto Moravia, Pablo Picasso, Eugene Berman, and Janet Flanner.

Plaut also had opportunities to take posed portraits of artists for publicity purposes. His photos have been used for brochures, flyers, posters, and concert programs by the Juilliard String Quartet, the Kalichstein-Laredo-Robinson Trio, the Albaneri Trio, Bethany Beardslee, Lehman Engel, and Ettore Stratta.

Plaut's photographs have been exhibited at several museums, including seven exhibits at the Museum of Modern Art in New York City, and have appeared in numerous major American and foreign magazines. Many book illustrations, book covers, and some eighty record album covers are to his credit. A selection of Plaut photographs was published as The Unguarded Moment: A Photographic Interpretation (Englewood Cliffs, N.J.: Prentice-Hall, c1964). This contains over one hundred of his finest portraits, as well as short biographical sketches of the subjects.

Scope and Contents

The Frederick and Rose Plaut Papers consist mainly of negatives, contact sheets, and enlargements of photographs taken by Frederick Plaut during his years as a recording engineer for Columbia Records. Over 35,000 negatives and 3,600 enlargements portray musicians, writers, actors, artists, and diplomats, both in candid studio shots and posed publicity photos. An additional 23,000 negatives and 2,000 enlargements depict travel and miscellaneous subjects. The Papers contain books, magazines, posters, and record jackets which reproduce Plaut's photographs. The Papers also house correspondence between the Plauts and various composers, including Francis Poulenc, Virgil Thomson, Ned Rorem, and Henri Sauguet. The Plauts' life and work are documented further by exhibit announcements, recital programs of Rose Plaut, and personal papers.

Series II: Enlargements

Enlargements have been separated from their negatives and are arranged alphabetically. This allows the reader an easy sampling of the collection.

Locations of negatives are given on the verso of the enlargements. For example, "234/D3" indicates a location of folder 234, frame D3 (row D, 3rd frame from the left).

Some enlargements have no negatives, either because the negatives are missing or, in a few cases, the photographs were not taken by Plaut.

A listing of autographed enlargements is given in the Series II notes area.

Series IV: Reproductions of Plaut photographs

This series contains reproductions of Plaut photographs as found in books, magazines, newspapers, concert programs, brochures, and posters. We also have some of the eighty record album covers to Plaut's credit. (Most reproductions are in box 45 with large posters in box 39 and record album covers in box 46.)

The reader will find materials in this series useful as an overview of Plaut's work and as a means of sampling the rest of the collection. The arrangement is alphabetical by subject's name. Locations of negatives are found on the versos of corresponding enlargements (Series II) or through use of the Name Index to Series I.

The largest selection of Plaut photographs appears in his book, The Unguarded moment: A Photographic Interpretation (Englewood Cliffs, N.J. : Prentice Hall, c1964). It contains over one hundred of Plaut's finest portraits as well as short biographical sketches of the subjects.

Series V: Correspondence

The Plaut correspondence contains letters, notes and postcards from many famous musicians and composers. Some of this correspondence includes requests for copies of photographs as well as notes complimenting Plaut on his skills as a photographer and a sound recording engineer. Because Fred and Rose Plaut were part of New York City's musical social life, other correspondence includes invitations to social events and responses to Plaut dinner party invitations.

The most significant correspondence, however, is that of Francis Poulenc to Rose Plaut from 1951 until his death in 1963. Poulenc and Rose had a close friendship. Rose, a soprano, has recorded and performed Poulenc songs including his "Nuage" which is dedicated to her. Poulenc also accompanied Mrs. Plaut in public performance. Both Fred and Rose were frequent guests of Poulenc at his residence in France.

This series is arranged alphabetically by writer's name. Information supplied by the processor, such as date and place appearing on postmarked envelopes, is enclosed in brackets.

Series VI: Travel & miscellaneous negatives and contact sheets

Most of the photographs in this series were taken by Plaut while on vacation with his wife Rose during the years 1945-1977. We have maintained Plaut's own chronological arrangement of these travel photos. The remainder of this series is comprised of miscellaneous photographs not included in Plaut's arrangement. Location information not given by Plaut was supplied by the processor when possible.

Series VII: Travel & miscellaneous enlargements

The enlargements in this series have corresponding negatives in Series VI, however, no attempt has been made to identify them. The enlargements have simply been separated by size and laid in boxes as follows:

Box 46: oversize

Boxes 54-56: 11x14

Boxes 57-62: 8x10

Box 63: 5x7

The one exception is a photograph taken of an old man and a girl playing a board game on a park bench in France. This photograph was very popular with publications concerned with education, aging, and human relations and may have been Plaut's most frequently published photograph. Materials pertaining to this photograph are located in the collection as follows:

Reproductions: Box 45, Folder 45

Correspondence: Box 47, Folder 8

Negative: Box 48, Folder 2

Enlargements: Box 54, Folder 1

Series VIII: Travel & miscellaneous slides

As with series VI, most of the slides in this series were taken by Fred Plaut while on vacation with his wife Rose during the years 1953-1977.

Plaut gave the slides very little identification. Therefore, much of the location and date information has been supplied by the processor. Dates were sometimes stamped on the slide frames during the photo processings. Other information was obtained through recognition and comparison with photographs in Series VI.

The slides are arranged chronologically and are contained in four boxes.
