CALL NUMBER: MS 828

CREATOR: Watson, William W. (William Weldon), 1899-1992

TITLE: William Weldon Watson Papers

DATES: 1924-1983

PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION: 3 linear feet (8 boxes)

LANGUAGE: English

SUMMARY: The papers reflect William W. Watson's career as a physicist and include correspondence, subject files, writings, and reports on professional conferences and writings, largely for the years 1950 to 1963. Best documented is his work as science advisor to the Philippine government, his involvement with the McGraw Hill Encyclopedia of Science and Technology, and his participation on the Atomic Energy for Connecticut Committee.

Biographical / Historical

William W. Watson was born on September 14, 1899 in Eveleth, Minnesota. He received his B.S. degree in 1920; his M.S. degree in 1922; and his Ph.D. degree in 1924, all from the University of Chicago. He was on the Chicago faculty from 1922 to 1928, when he was appointed Assistant Professor of Physics at Yale. He was promoted to Associate Professor in 1931 and to full Professor and Chairman of the department in 1940. Under Professor Watson's direction, the Physics Department at Yale underwent considerable expansion both in the size of its staff and student body, as well as in its housing and facilities. In 1961, Professor Watson stepped down from the chairmanship, and seven years later, in 1968, he retired from the Yale faculty. He died August 3, 1992.

Scope and Contents

The William W. Watson Papers represent the professional activities of Dr. Watson outside of his duties as chairman of the Physics Department at Yale. They date from (approximately) 1950 to 1963 and include correspondence, reports on professional conferences, and writings. Professor Watson's role as science adviser in the Philippines is especially well-documented by correspondence. His involvement with the McGraw-Hill Encyclopedia of Science and Technology and his participation on the Atomic Energy for Connecticut Committee are also noteworthy. The papers were received from Dr. Watson on May 8, 1978.

Photographs of the Sloane Laboratory staff (1920-1921, 1951), the dedication of the Electron Accelerator Laboratory (1963), and an aerial view of the Gibbs Laboratory and Accelerator Lab (1955) have been removed for the Yale Picture Collection.

Watson's files as chairman of the Yale physics department from 1940 to 1961 have been retained by that department (1978).

Arrangement

The papers are arranged into five series and one addition: I. General Correspondence, 1951-1960, II. Topical Correspondence, 1928-1968, III. Conferences, 1954-1959, IV. Writings, 1949-1968, and V. Personal and Miscellaneous Papers, 1945-1968.

This series is arranged alphabetically and contains biographical material, writings, correspondence, and subject files pertaining to the professional career of William Weldon Watson. "Bibliography and biographical sketch" and "Genealogical notes" provide information on Watson's publications, life, and family background. "Comments on Onsager's Research on Thermal Diffusion in Gases" and "Physics at Yale, 1928-1968" are hand-written documents composed by Watson after his retirement from the Yale faculty in 1968. "Writings" provide a sampling of Watson's publications written throughout his professional career.
