Scope and Contents

This collection brings together various items pertaining to George Levi Fox. Three bound volumes are included, one a letterbook concerned with Fox's investments in Florida orange groves in the 1880s, the second a diary for 1921 and 1923 containing scattered entries about travels to Europe and England, and the third a thesis submitted for the Ph.D. at Yale University (no degree was conferred).

The bulk of the collection consists of writings by and about Fox. Included are a number of typescript and manuscript drafts of essays, addresses, and letters to the editor on politics and education, newspaper clippings and other printed matter largely on English and Irish politics and on education, and several articles about Fox's activities on behalf of the Labour Party in England and against Irish Independence. There are, finally, several miscellaneous items of memorabilia and printed matter. An 1894 letter from Edward A. Bouchet to Fox is included with his letterbook.

These papers were the gift to Yale University of the estate of George L. Fox in 1931.
